

That's your Dollar you earned it.

The man with money began putting what he could in the Bank.

Who gets the money you earn?

Many men spend their money as fast as they make it and at the end of each year have nothing to show for a whole year's work. If these men would say to themselves: "I will put some money in the Bank every time," and stick to their resolution to save, they would soon have a "NEST EGG" that will increase and grow, and it will be the interest they take in making it grow that will do it.

LOCAL MENTION.

T. M. Gum was down from Dunmore Tuesday.

Tom Kennedy, of August, was in Marlinton Tuesday.

Miss Mary Warwick, of Greenbank, was in Marlinton Tuesday.

B. Austin Gwin and Dan Grose, of Bath county, are in town this week.

Price Moore was in the Levels last week and bought a cow from Marshall Isbell.

O. N. Cassell, of Back Allegheny, was a caller at this office Monday morning.

Mrs. Paris D. Yeager, with her son, of Clifton Forge, is here to spend Easter with her parents.

Captain Sweeney reports a very successful sale of John Moore's stock and personal property last Friday.

Miss Margie Herold is in Staunton attending the marriage of her brother, Henry V. Herold and Miss Dudley.

Taylor Moore, who spent the winter with his daughter, Mrs. D. L. Barlow, of Huntington, returned home last week.

R. H. Shrader, who is employed on the loader by the Moore Lumber Company, at Mt. Grove, is attending court this week.

Mrs. Arbuckle Johnson, who has been at the Marlinton Hospital for some weeks, returned to her home near Lewisburg Tuesday.

Phil Edmiston and Gilbert Sheets, of Dunmore, were visitors at our office on court day. Also Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Wooddell, of Greenbank.

George N. Tacy and Randolph Galford, of Cass, were among our visitors this week. Also F. H. Warwick and Austin Lightner, of Greenbank.

Henry Overholt, who is foreman for a large lumber company in Preston county, is at home for a few weeks vacation. He expects to take his family on his return.

C. J. McCarty has moved from Millpoint to one of his houses near the court house. We are glad to again have him a resident of our town. He expects to engage in the insurance business.

Miss Margaret Price, of the Lewisburg Seminary, is expected home this afternoon to spend Easter. She will be accompanied by her friend Miss Margaret Bell, of Lewisburg.

E. H. Moore, of Hillsboro, was a court day visitor here Tuesday.

N. W. Russell, of Lewisburg, is in Pocahontas this week, writing insurance.

Clyde Townsend of Frost, has bought an automobile from the Marlinton Garage.

L. C. Gum, who is working in the blacksmith shop on Elk, is spending a few days at home.

H. C. Skaggs, Clerk of the Circuit Court of Greenbrier county, was in town Tuesday.

Rev. J. O. Johnson, of Hillsboro, will preach at the Presbyterian church next Sunday night, April 8.

S. C. Galford, of Slaty Fork, has bought the balance of the John Varner land from the Varner heirs.

J. Enoch Taylor, of Bartow, was in to see us on Monday and told us he was seriously contemplating moving to Montana soon to buy a ranch.

G. L. Clark, of Hillsboro, came to see us while in town Monday. He has built up an extensive poultry business, and has now a good trade in day old chicks.

A man named Johnson, a woodsman, was seriously cut by another woodsman named Wm. Jones, at Cass, last Sunday. The men were fighting, and Johnson was getting the better of Jones, having him around the neck with one arm and hitting him in the face with his other fist. Jones drew a knife and slashed Johnson in the back, around the neck and other places. One gash to the neck cut thirteen stitches close. The cut in the neck barely missed the jugular vein. Jones ran away before he could be arrested and is still at large.

Fire destroyed a four roomed house belonging to H. M. Moore at Dunmore last Thursday night. The building was occupied by Mrs. Jacob Taylor and family and used as a central office for the Arbovale Mutual Telephone Company. The loss may possibly reach $1,500 as there was nothing saved of the contents. The telephone company's loss is about $300. Mr. Moore's loss is about $750, and Mrs. Taylor had barely time to save herself and children. There was no insurance.

CIRCUIT COURT BIG TURNOUT AT COURT THIS WEEK

Circuit court met Tuesday at the time appointed by the statute, Judge S. H. Sharp on the bench. The lawyers present not being able to agree with the spontaneity required as to the selection of a lawyer as a special judge, Judge Sharp did not find it expedient to order an election, and at his request Judge W. L. Lee of the Twenty Third Circuit, came to hold court and try those cases in which the judge of this circuit was disqualified by reason of his connection as counsel. Judge Lee arrived Tuesday evening on 144 from his home in Fayetteville. Judge Dice has been at court this week shaking hands with the county. When you come to think of it, we had six mighty peaceful and satisfying years under Judge Dice as judge, and his administration will always be remembered as a period of serenity.

On Tuesday no jury cases were tried. A number of orders both chancery and law were entered. J. E. Buckley was qualified to practice law in this court. He has recently been licensed to practice by the Supreme Court following his bar examination. He will move to Marlinton soon and will locate in his native county. He is a graduate of Washington & Lee.

Tuesday the trial of Dr. O. A. Howard began. The first day was taken up largely in getting a jury. Forty jurors were drawn. Thirty-nine appeared. Thirty-five were called to the box and examined before a panel of twelve could be secured. The trial is going on at this time and bids fair to be a long one. Frank A. O'Brien, of Wheeling, is a special prosecutor. N. C. McNeil and F. R. Hill for the defense. There is no special feeling in the case so far as the public is concerned, but there is an intense interest being taken and the court house is jammed.

Attorney O'Brien is a son of the late Col. O'Brien, the Wheeling banker. Col. O'Brien was a wheel-horse of democracy, a native of Ireland, state treasurer from 1881 to 1885, and a man who counted on the men of Greenbrier Valley to go with the Wheeling men on all public matters. He had a host of friends here.

The Willing Workers society of the Huntersville Presbyterian church will give an entertainment Sunday night April 8, 1917, beginning at 7:30. Everybody invited.

Champ Clark was re-elected Speaker of the House of Representatives and the Democrats organized the House. The vote was 318 for Clark and 205 for Mann. All the Democrats voted for the Speaker, four of the five independents, and several Republicans. He was put in nomination by a Republican. The Democrats and Republicans are now tied, there being 214 each, with the balance of power held by five independents. Another Democrat will be elected from a new York district on April 12, and there is a vacancy in a Republican New England District.

On Tuesday of this week the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Israel Rosin was circumcised. This most ancient of religious ceremonies was performed by the Rev. Friedman, of Charleston. A number of friends, both Jew and gentile were invited in. Among the Jews from out of town were L. A. Kalish, Greenbank; Jacob Cooper and F. Seigle, of Cass, and Mos & Mamin of Darbin. The little boy was named Isaac.

The authority for this custom is found in Genesis XVII: "And God said unto Abraham, thou shalt keep my covenant therefore, thou, and thy seed after thee in their generations. This is my covenant which ye shall keep between me and thee and thy seed after thee; every man child among you shall be circumcised. . . . And he that is eight days old shall be circumcised among you every man child in your generations, he that is born in the house, or bought with money of any stranger, which is not of thy seed. . . . And the uncircumcised man child whose flesh of his foreskin is not circumcised, that soul shall be cut off from his people; he hath broken my covenant." This is the chapter which records the changing of Abram's name to Abraham, "for a father of many nations have I made thee," Abraham was ninety nine years old when he was circumcised.

During the month of March 9.40 inches of rain fell at Marlinton, according to the record of S. L. Brown, local weather observer. There was 2.5 inches of snowfall. The most rain on any one day was 1.51 inches on the 4th. There were 17 days on which rain fell; 10 clear days, 13 partly cloudy, 8 cloudy days. Sleet fell on the 2, 3 and 4th. On the 14th there was a heavy sleet on high ground but none at Marlinton. The coldest was 10 degrees above on the 6th and the hottest was 70 degrees on the 31st; greatest daily range was 46 degrees on the 31st and the least was 2 degrees on the 1st and 4th. There were thunder storms on the 11th and 12th.

The report from the month from the Elkins Weather station shows 7.12 inches of rain. The normal for the month is 4.07 inches, and the heaviest fall in 19 years prior to this year was 5.58 inches in 1905. The least was .68 inches in 1910. There were 10 clear days, 17 cloudy days and 4 partly cloudy. Rain fell on 20 days, and there was snow to the amount of 8.5 inches. The hottest was 78 degrees on the 31st and the coldest 12 degrees on the 6th.

Truth and Evasion.
The cruelest lies are often told in silence. A man may have sat in a room for hours and not opened his teeth and yet come out of that room a disloyal friend or a vile calumniator. And how many loves have perished because, from pride, or spite, or dislike, or that unmanly shame which withholds a man from daring to betray emotion, a lover, at the critical point of relaxation has but hung his head or held his tongue? And again, a lie may be told by a truth, or a truth conveyed through a lie. Truth to facts is not always truth to sentiment; and part of the truth, as often happens in answer to a question, may be the foulest calumny. A fact may be an exception; but the feeling is the law, and it is that you must neither garble, nor belittle to tell the truth, rightly understood, is not to state the true facts, but convey a true impression; truth in spirit, not truth to letter, is the true veracity.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

The Gentleman.
The gentleman is never unduly familiar; takes no liberties; is chary of questions; is neither artificial nor affected; is a little obtrusive upon the mind or feelings of others as on their persons; bears himself tenderly toward the weak and unprotected; is not arrogant, cannot be supercilious; can be self-denying without struggle; is not vain of his advantages, extrinsic or personal; habitually subordinates his lower to his higher self; is, in his best condition, electric with truth, buoyant with veracity. Gentlemanhood is not compassed by imitation, because inward life is not imitable; nor is it purchasable, because refinement cannot be bought; nor but partially inheritable, because nature discontinuances monopolies. It is not superficial, its external being the tokens of internal needs, its embellishments part and parcel of its substance.—George Henry Colver.

Curing Leprosy.
Some weeks ago the Courant mentioned that a Cuban had asserted that he had discovered a cure for leprosy and had so far impressed the Havana authorities that a commission of physicians had been appointed to investigate the matter. It now appears a leper no further away than Pennsylvania is so much improved in health that he has been released from quarantine. It is asserted that while bacilli are found in nodules on his face, his blood shows no trace of them or of the disease, and the authorities of Wilkesbarre, which have been keeping him and his family in quarantine at an expense of $3,000 a year, have put an end to the outlay by removing the quarantine. It may be supposed that the man, Joseph Norman, will not be altogether popular at social gatherings for some time to come, but it is significant that his condition has so far improved that he is permitted to be at large.—Hartford Courant.

The Best Courage.
No true manliness can be realized where courage is not present—courage, as denoting not merely that keen instinct of battle which displays itself in stimulating excitements, in the heat of contest, in the crisis which pushes one to self-vindication, or in passion championship of favorite opinions, but as representing what is ampler than this, and also finer: strength of heart, strength to endure as well as attack, to pursue and achieve as well as to attempt to sacrifice self altogether, if need be, on behalf of any controlling conviction. A thorough consent of judgment, conscience, imagination, affection, all vitalized and active, with a certain invincible firmness of will, as the effect of such a consent—this is implied in a really abounding and masterful courage.—Richard Salter Storrs.
